Brief Scope of Work (60 words maximum) Glendale Parks, Recreation & Community Services Department will conduct a planning study to determine the feasibility of a youth-oriented, overnight campground in the Verdugo Mountains, San Rafael Hills, or Deukmejian Wilderness Park in the City of Glendale.
Funding Source Applied for: Proposition 84
Project Description:
The City of Glendale is requesting a grant in the amount of $50,000 to conduct a planning study to determine the site of a youth-oriented, overnight campground in the city. A minimum of three sites will be reviewed in order to assess each location's relative opportunities and constraints. These sites will include, but are not limited to, the Experimental Forest (also known as the Warden's Grove) on the north slope of the Verdugo Mountains, an unspecified site in the City's 709-acre Deukmejian Wilderness Park, and an unspecified site in the San Rafael Hills. The study will be initiated through a series of community outreach meetings targeting potential user groups such as the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of America, the YMCA, and Homenetmen. Initial meetings will be followed by a series of site visits to potential locations within the City's 5,020 acres of open space. The planning document will include a feasibility study, conceptual designs, cost analysis, and recommendations. Upon conclusion of the study, the City of Glendale will seek additional funds for construction of the future campground. Over the past seven years, the City of Glendale has made significant open space acquisitions within the city. In all, a total of 758 acres of open space has been purchased or donated since 2002 at a cost of more than $44 million. For several years the Department of Parks, Recreation & Community Services has sought to find additional methods of bringing the city's young people, particularly those in underserved areas of the city, into its natural open spaces. The Department considers public access to open space to be one of its highest priorities. It is hoped that the successful completion of the Planning Study will be the first step toward making the goal of a youth-oriented, overnight camping facility a reality.
